FOREWORD

Like the song that ends with the melody lingering on in our minds comes the termination of our college life, leaving pleasant memories.

That the faculty and students of Eastern may have a graphic reminder of their college activities to which, in years to come, those represented may look back on familiar faces and scenes—where lifelong friendships were created and where their never-to-be-forgotten college days were spent—this book was conceived. If it should, to even a small extent, serve these purposes, the effort will have been well expended.

May those happy days return at each opening of this "Milestone," and may the pleasant memories of Eastern linger for years to come because of such a retrospect.

THE THEME

Always, since time began, youth has faced ahead. It is in that spirit of progress that we have chosen the motion picture as the theme of our MILESTONE. The romance of tomorrow is in the things of today; it is in the ring of a wagon wheel on a cold morning; it is in the harsh blast of the factory whistle. We have only to look ahead and about us, instead of behind.

The motion picture is a vital factor to many; we depend upon it for amusement, education, and philosophy; its ideas are our impressions. Through it we are given that blessed power of the magic carpet and thus are enabled to make acquaintance with the far corners of the earth. The characters on the screen are our friends; we know them, perhaps love them; they can creep within our very souls and whisper to us alone. To this extent is the motion picture a fibre of our being.

A student's years in college resemble strongly the duration of a motion picture. There are athletic reels; there are features; and of course there is comedy. But the drama is there also, with its pathos and joy, its laughter and tears, its love, hate, anger, and fear. Meanwhile, over it all, there is the flicker, flicker of time's projector, the passing days that are moments, the swiftly moving scenes, now flashing, now fading . . . until the lights go on and we stand for a moment dazed by the brilliance, before we make our way up the aisle to the open door of the outside world.

"THRU
EASTERN'S CAMPUS"
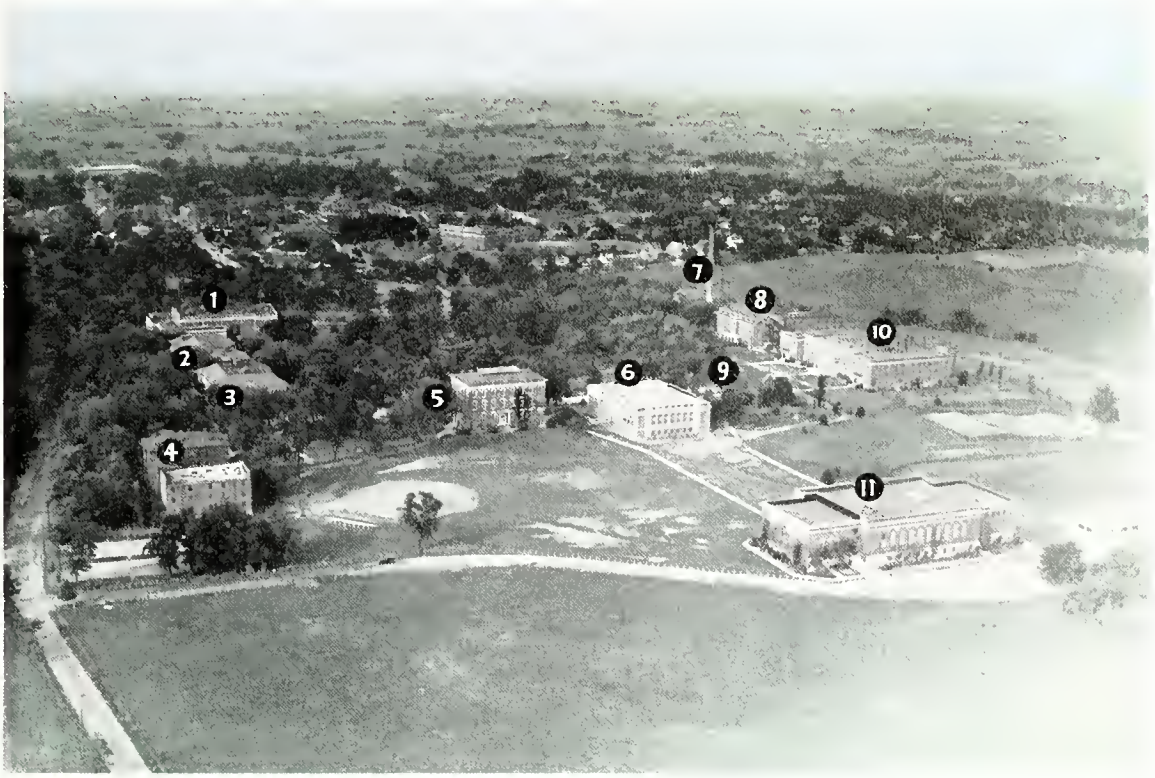
A Technicolor Travelogue
HAROLD JOHNSON, Commentator

Panorama of beauty, a landscape unfolding its scenery from all sides; creative of gorgeous surroundings, studded here and there in perfect outline—stately buildings . . . etched into the almost forest covered verdant earth . . . spread in fan-shaped circle . . . a picture painted in miniature, but the splendorous home of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College . . .



1. Administration Building
2. Science Building
3. Cammack Building
4. Memorial Hall
5. University Building
6. Library
7. Power Plant
8. Sullivan Hall
9. Industrial Arts Building
10. Burnam Hall
11. Health Building

Entering the campus via the Second Street entrance, one is greeted by a new drive, and, rolling serenely on, one sees on the left Sullivan Hall, the "House of Seven Gables," the home of approximately one hundred and seventy women students bent on the everlasting quest of knowledge . . .

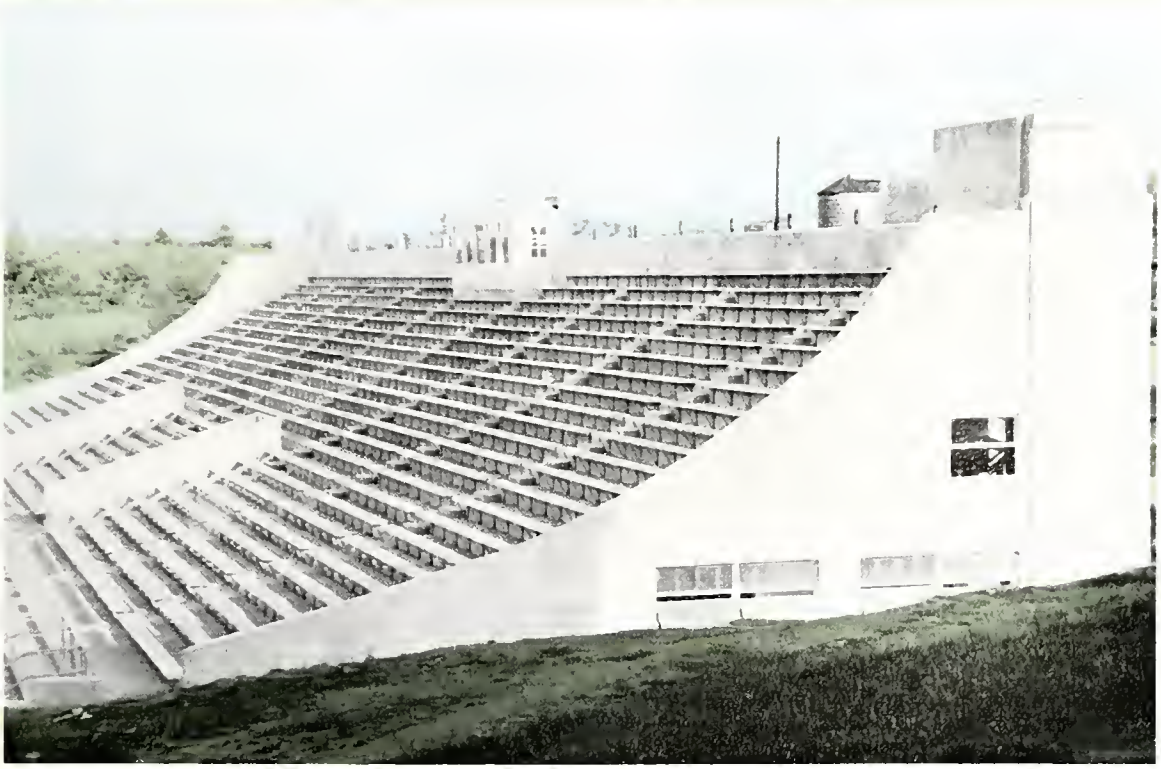
Further on, one passes another women's dormitory, Burnam Hall. This newly-constructed building, one of the most beautiful on the campus, houses the cafeteria. Its broad veranda, with columns reminiscent of Mt. Vernon, is continuously crowded with hopeful youths . . .

After turning the bend in the road, one pauses for a moment, then passes the Industrial Arts Building, which is next to the seat of learning on the campus, the John Grant Crabbe Library. Here 50,000 volumes draw students from every walk of life to taste, even though briefly, the richness of books . . .

Then one, in a state of awe, shifts his eyes to the magnificence of our replica of an ancient Greek Amphitheatre, placed in a setting created by Nature herself. With the green turf about it and the trees near it, it is a scene which touches the heart of artist and layman alike . . .

Directly behind the library is found the home of Eastern's athletics, the Weaver Health Building. Its columnar front makes it one of the outstanding examples of Greek architecture in the South. Housing all the facilities of a gymnast's "Valhalla," including a swimming pool, it lends itself to any course its users may choose . . .

To the left is seen another athletic building, the new Hanger Stadium, with the latest design and construction of any building on the campus. Mighty men of the gridiron dwell beneath its tiers, creating there a feeling of friendship and fellowship which is unrivaled elsewhere on the campus of this institution . . .



And now the oldest building of the group, the seat of Old Central University, the University Building, erected in 1874, is viewed. Its time-worn walls are immortal to those who, learning the art of expressing knowledge under critical supervision, have taken their practice teaching within them . . .

With quickening pace, one passes Memorial Hall, the men's aged dormitory, and makes a right turn to Lancaster Avenue. The first building is the Cammack Training School, the center of elementary education at Eastern. Within its portals, college students are taught the rudiments of instructing the coming generations . . .

Next is the Science Building, the home of molecules, with atoms, running rampant through the laboratories, controlled in lectures by scientists in their fields. Here, marvels of science reveal to willing minds the mysteries of this great world in which we live . . .

And now, reaching the end of the tour, one beholds the Coates Administration Building. With titillation one wanders through its stately halls and gazes in awed admiration at the magnificence of Hiram Brock Auditorium, which, beautifully decorated and vast in expanse, will forever be a living inspiration in the minds of those attendant. Then passing the home of the President, one leaves Eastern's campus behind and is again conscious of the outside world.

(Eastern Production)

Education, Drama, Romance

Dramatic, comic, romantic, and learned . . . thusly, we have described this Eastern Production. Quality of story content plus worth of the featured names in the cast make this story one of more than passing interest to the public.

After four years of direct production, the "Senior Class' is being released upon the world. The virtues of magnificent manhood and womanhood instilled in one swiftly moving drama. The setting would be opportune at any locality in the Universe; there is no beginning, no ending; Time is continuous. If one should listen closely, one could hear the faraway ticking of a clock, as, with stately grace, the characters walk slowly down the aisle. The clock . . . keeping time to the steady beating of triumphant hearts. Then, no pathos, no heart rending sobs . . . just exaltation . . . not because of finished production, but work, well done; work that has carried them to the doorway of Life, shown them the goodness, the blessedness of living . . . that will carry them through the infinite ages as a classic piece of literature. Knowledge is theirs, the Truth, the Way, the Wherefore, and it is their Creed, as a fitting climax, to lend this knowledge to their fellowmen.

This plot revolves around an educational center located in the heart of a vast country from which the finer things in life transcend. The senior class of the institution is presided over by George Martin, and it is through him that much of the intrigue is enacted . . . Like a man who carries a spare tire on his car the Seniors selected a Vice-President in case anything should happen to their president, to serve in this capacity. That master of the hardwood battleground "Woody" Hinkle was elected. Shall we say he has personality plus? . . . Gentlemen prefer blonds and so does the class of '39. When Kitty Holcomb was nominated, voted upon, and elected unanimously as secretary there was not a doubt in anyone's mind as to her capability. Active in many campus organizations Kitty has proven her merit . . . In the tedious task of treasures was placed Bill Macht, a witty, likable individual who demonstrated that he possessed the ability to fulfill his duties without losing any of his numerous friends.

JUNIOR CLASS

(Eastern Production)

Righteous, Educational, Romantic

The spirit of school life involves many instances of worth, and the directors of this production have caught this spirit. They have injected it into this drama, making a dream, worthy of highest critical aspect.

Action is imperative throughout this drama. The continuity of events, the magnificent scenes, the splendor of the settings, the knowledge of the ages make a wonderful spectacle for the ever searching Eye of Man—the Eye that has delved into the Unknown, ever seeking a higher standard of living. This Searching Eye is the cinema. And the characters uphold the high ideals of the institution—the worthy institution, of which they are vital moving members. The entire action is a reverie of their beliefs.

Tempo . . . crescendo . . . heralding trumpets . . . music . . . swing . . . tunes that are symbolic of a nation swinging out of chaos . . . the beat of drums . . . moving feet—The Junior Prom. Shadow movements on the upward trend, hurdling toward the snow-capped peaks, crossing them into the Valley of the Sapphire, to turn a blue transparent variety, into solid gold—The "Junior Class."

Strains of a lyric tenor, the voice of Norbert Rechtin, guiding the class on their momentous journey, aided by Russell Childs, Beulah Clark, and Virginia Bohn—Alpinic guides, toiling with the supporting cast on the dangerous pathways of life.

(Eastern Production)

Drama, Romance, Beauty

A geyser, magnificent in all its splendor, uncapped and flowing continuously, reaching the heavens; supervened by tiny whirlpools and eddys around the edges, crystal clear, luke-warm, a supplement to the spiritfulness of a fuller more complete living. The Production "Sophomore Class" is radiant of this theme, lending itself to the creation of a better, more Godly world. Truly a token of the ever-changing manly hope for a greater livelihood, the directors are to be commended upon the splendidness of manner in which they have handled a very delicate and tranquil subject. However, the acme of great acting makes the production even more wonderful, a pantomime to be followed by all posterity. Again we find the play built upon the age old search of young people for knowledge. The plot is a sequence to the "First Year," a production of last season, carrying on the high ideals endowed in the characters at that time and creating new ones in keeping with the problems faced in the plot.

SOPHOMORES

Hiram Montgomery Brock, Jr. . . . even with such a name as this the class of '39 decided that "Hunkey" was the man to lead the group for the year. His friendliness and ready wit gave him Eastern's okey when he arrived, last year as a green freshman from Harlan. To record the foolishness of their meetings, Pearl Stevenson was chosen by the Sophs as secretary. We certainly give them credit for this choice. Nice going Pearl, we predict bigger things for you. Not content to pick all of their officers from the Kentucky crop, the Sophomores voted that Dick Cantor, the blond Apollo from New Boston, Ohio, was to be their Vice-President. Dick's smile may have won this office for him as it has won his popularity on the campus. Bill doesn't say much but believe it, when any help is needed he will be in there doing his part. That's the reason the class elected William Moore as treasurer.

FRESHMAN CLASS

(Eastern Production)

Gay, Romantic, Frivolous

Registration . . . Comedy, and yet possessive of a deeper hidden meaning—a tiny bit of romance, beautiful, serenely so; wholly unconquerable, but well worth knowing . . . trying to be some one else in a splendid effort at glamour, and failing, even after long years of practice. Highly idealistic are the words that describe the "Freshman Class," idealistic in the fact that they seem to be endlessly searching for the elements left unwanted by their superiors . . . not in intellect, but in classification.

In this Drama, we find a multitude of people drawn together by one common cause . . . people gathered from Nature's great storehouse . . . and with the shining light of higher things beaming from the countenance of each and every one, setting out upon untraveled roads in the sincere hope of finding the Golden Penny of Knowledge, and in the end, success. Their trials and temptations are gathered in one magnificent drama . . . a drama that will gain momentum with the years.

The puzzle of youth . . . problems . . . hopeful, vain . . . mild attempts at sincerity . . . forceful comedy . . . scenic beauty . . . "Freshmen" . . .

The freshmen combined all the qualities of an ideal campus man when they chose their president, Bob Dickman. Personality and scholarship are merely two of his attributes. He proved himself a master of the parallel-bars and the tumbling mat shortly after he came to Eastern . . . Eastern's campus was familiar stamping ground to Josephine Park, secretary-treasurer of the class . . . Before entering the college she was well known to all of us at Model High School. A more efficient personality could not have been found to fulfill this office. The vice-president, James Hennessey, friendly fellow from the northern end of the state . . . looks good on the gridiron and we expect results from his work.

FEATURED ATTRACTIONS

To Beauty

I often wonder, Beauty, were you brushed by
Venus' wing,

Or, perhaps while you were sleeping you heard the mermaids sing,

Heard them tell the secrets of sleeping beauty's love,

Or, did you look, while dreaming, through beauty's golden door?

Did blue and brown or other sprite shake star-
dust in your eyes,

The wild swan give your voice the song it sings
before it dies—

A fairy artist came, I know, and plied his magic brush,

To touch your throat with ivory, your cheek with rose's blush—

Did Cupid place his bow upon your lips of crimson hue,

A dye that beauty's elves distilled from drops of sunset dew?

Arachne must have spun your hair that it might wave and cling.

Tell me, Lovely Beauty, were you brushed by Venus' wing?

T. E. McDonough

Director of Athletics

To Thomas Edward McDonough, we dedicate this section of the 1937 Milestone.

To him, more than to any other person or factor, belongs the credit and distinction of giving impetus to the trend of athletic supremecy that Eastern is rapidly attaining. Since coming to the college more than nine years ago, Mr. McDonough has been a constant friend, advisor, coach, and, above all, an inspiration to countless athletes that have worn the Maroon and White.

Outstanding in his field and recognized as a physical educator of the first order, McDonough has often been the recipient of honorary offices in the various professional organizations of which he is a member. Recently he was given the post of President by the Southern Physical Education Association while he also holds a similar position in the Kentucky Health and Physical Education Association.

Perhaps no higher tribute could be payed Mr. McDonough than to say that he knows his job and does it well.

Eastern loses eight of its past season grid stars and with these players passes some of the finest football ability that the college has ever possessed.

Arthur Lund came to Eastern two years ago from a junior college in Salt Lake City, Utah, and has been an outstanding figure both on the gridiron and on the campus. His superb passing ability coupled with his all round athletic ability on the field won for him a position on the past year's All State football eleven.

Along with Lund came Jay Brinton and James Limb who also call the Mormon country their home. Brinton, a tackle, and Limb, an end, were two very fine reasons why Coach Samuels' line functioned so well all season.

Heber Tarter and Bob Mavity were Eastern's regular fullbacks for the past three years, with Tarter being especially adapted to offensive line smashing while Mavity stood out as a defensive star and a blocking back. Both boys will be sorely missed from their positions next season as will Overton King, regular tackle, from Clifton Forge, Va., and Alexander Wallace, a shifty halfback, that came to Eastern along with Coach Rankin two years ago. Wilson Gabbard, a guard, is the eighth member of the senior class whose absence will be noticeable next fall.

Eastern, starting it's second year under the tutelage of Coaches Rome Rankin and Tom Samuels, became the outstanding aggregation in the state last season, compiling a record of seven wins against two losses, the Maroons broke record after record in their tireless effort to give Eastern the finest gridiron machine that she has ever had. Inspirational, of course, was the presence of the magnificent, new Hanger stadium together with the dynamic leadership of Coaches Rankin and Samuels.

Playing the first pair of games with small college elevens in order to give the Eastern mentors a slant on their seasons prospects the Maroons quickly justified all pre-season expectations by soundly thrashing the two adversaries in top-heavy scores. During these games, approximately thirty wearers of the Maroon and White were given an opportunity to demonstrate their prowess as gridmen. During these trials the work of sophomores Yeager, Hill, Davis, and Lydey, stood out, while the veterans, led by Killen, Caldwell, Roy King, Everling, Lacey, Tarter, and O. King, also revealed that the club would be strong.

The record breaking Maroons, traveling next to the Hoosier state of Indiana to engage the highly touted Franklin College eleven, broke their first record when for the first time in the history of Eastern football, the Rankin men won an out-of-state game by a 7-0 count. A lateral pass, Caldwell to Hatton to Davis, turned the trick and although the Maroons threatened on numerous other occasions the giant forward wall of Franklin's stopped further scoring.

Returning home for the annual Home-coming game—this year with the University of Louisville,— the Maroons trounced the cardinals by a 9-6 score in the thrilling game that had the 3,000 spectators, that turned out to see Governor Chandler dedicate the Hanger Stadium and to participate in the Home-coming festivities, holding onto their seats throughout.

With Johnny Killen, Art Lund, Roy King, and Woodrow Lydey leading the way, the Maroons broke the 14 year old hold that Georgetown College had exercised over the Eastern team when they turned back the Tigers by a 6-2 tally in a game that packed all the thrills that any football game could have. A perfectly timed pass play from Art "Red" Lund, whose work this year brought him All-State honors, to Bob Hatton gave Eastern her margin of victory.

Riding the crest of a five game winning streak, the Maroons met with disaster when a fighting bank of Morehead College Eagles completely surprised the Rankinmen and took a 18-7 victory back to their native haunt together with the now established "Hawg Rifle" trophy. Returning to the good graces of the public the next week by trouncing the Transylvania Pioneers 13-6 and breaking a 16 year jinx, the Maroons set themselves for the acid test of their entire schedule—the annual Western game.

Great offensive work by Art Lund together with some defensive playing by Hagood, Fulkerson, McConnell, Limb, Mavity, and Lacey gave the Hilltoppers of Western a terrific scare with the men of Western finally beating out a 7-0 win but definitely shaking the long supremacy held by the down-staters in football circles.

Again Lund took charge of the offensive progress of the Maroons in the Union game and aided by a staunch sophomore line, the Maroons eked out a much deserved and long awaited victory. Thus closed the 1936 chapter in the football annals of the college with this year's notations being the brightest and most successful that has ever been produced since that history began.

BABY MAROONS - 1936

To the Freshman team of 1936 belongs a lion's share of the credit for the fine showing that the Varsity made last season. Little is known of the frosh squad by the average sports fan, although the yearlings report daily for the sole purpose of keeping the varsity in shape with no reward offered other than the satisfaction of playing the game.

THE VARSITY MAROONS

With a highly seasoned and talented basketball team reporting to him this year, Coach Rankin gave to Eastern another fine court squad that justified all pre-season expectations. The Maroons, by winning ten tilts while dropping only four in state competition, finished third in the K.I.A.C. race. Injuries helped to keep down the record—Roy King, outstanding guard, Captain Paul DeMoisey, and Otwell Rankin were all victims of injuries during the season while the loss of Coach Rankin during the latter part of the season, due to illness, also hampered the Maroons.

Going to the S.I.A.A. tourney as a Kentucky representative the team played without the guidance of both Captain DeMoisey and Coach Rankin, who underwent an appendectomy shortly before the meet.

THE SENIORS

Captain Paul Barry DeMoisey—sterling leader of a gallant team—the pepper box of the team. "Noisey" will be sorely missed both from the basketball court and the campus when he takes his leave this year. Was deprived the honor of leading his team in the K.I.A.C. and S.I.A.A. tournaments due to an arm injury sustained late in the regular season. Cocky, daring, a fighter, Paul has the stuff that it takes to get along.

Woodrow Hinkle—the most outstanding forward to grace the hardwoods of Eastern in many years. Quite, unassuming, steady, "Woodie" is one of the best liked members of the team. A great offensive star, Hinkle, was twice named for All-State honors.

Thomas Scott—scrappy, speedy, smart, Tommy teamed with Hinkle for the past two years at a forward berth to form a perfectly balanced pair. Great passer and floor man. A "money player" who plays best when the going gets the toughest.

Heman Fulkerson—hard working, conscientious, shy. "Piney" showed ability as a tip off man and as a defensive player. Fine team player, with plenty of that winning spirit. Gave up honorary trip to the Nation's capitol just to maintain good team work.

LESLIE VOSHELL, sophomore, showed great promise of developing into a great forward, acting as an understudy to Hinkle most of the season. ROY KING, junior, was the backbone of the Maroon offense practically all season. A great competitor and a player that plays the game because he likes it. BOB HATTON, junior, was a valuable addition to the Maroon team coming to Eastern as a junior college man. Played center and guard. RAY FRITTS, junior, was a second junior college man that materially aided the Rankinmen to numerous victories. A hard fighter and a willing worker. OTWELL RANKIN, junior, impressed with his sterling defensive work and consistent goal shooting, played a guard position with a brilliance that will land him a regular post next year. JOHN BLEVINS, junior, completed the triumvirate of junior college men that fit into the picture at Eastern so perfectly this year. An amazing goal shot.

BABY MAROONS 1936-1937

This year, Coach Hughes had assembled one of the finest freshman teams that has ever attended Eastern. Bowling over all sorts of competition by very one-sided scores the Baby Maroons compiled an outstanding record.

Coach Hughes' starting lineup usually consisted of Virgil McWhorter, a sharp-shooter from Hazel Green, and Harry Bryant, former Cropper flash, at the forward berths; Woodrow Noll, elongated Crescent Springs representative, at the pivot; Frank Sloan, former all-state high school at Inez, and Rudy Craig, a brilliant basketeer from Butler, at the guard posts.

THE BASEBALL SQUAD

DIAMOND DUST

Behind the marvelous pitching of Charles Bryant, who during three years of college baseball competition lost only one game (his last one), the Eastern Maroons of 1936 won six of their ten games. Scoring victories over the University of Indiana, Lincoln Memorial University, Western, Louisville, and Morehead, the Maroons kept their reputation of being the best college baseball team in Kentucky for the fifth consecutive year. Aided by a hard hitting and brilliant fielding outfield combine of Captain Ray Settle, Paul DeMoisey, and Leslie Voshell, the Maroons were a constant threat to any team they met. The infield consisted of Ward at third, Lester King at short, Preston Short on the keystone sack, and Woodrow Hinkle at first. Charles Bryant, aided by freshmen Yeager and Rice, took care of the hurling while Jim Caldwell and Dick Greenwell served as maskmen.

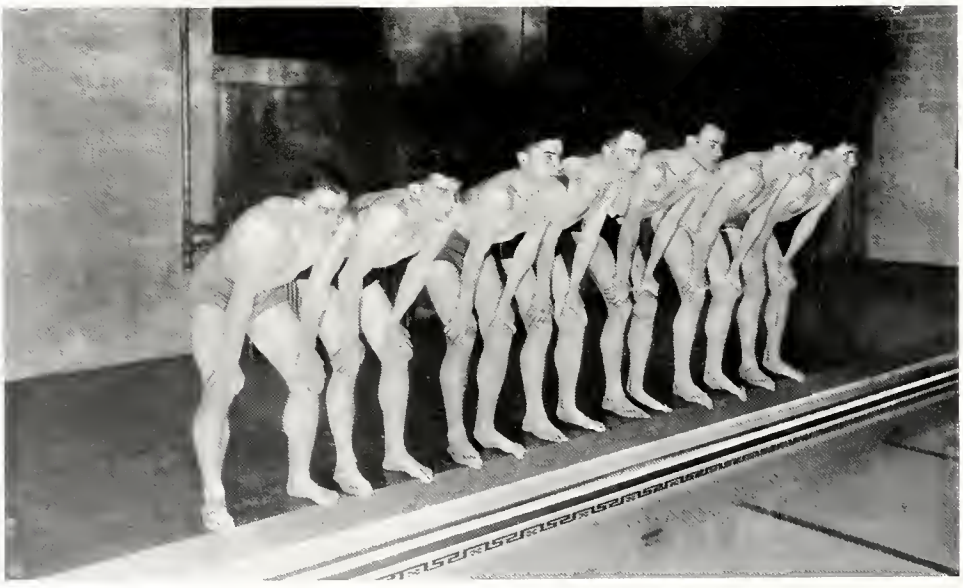
TRACK AND FIELD

The largest track squad ever at Eastern reported this year. The "fleet-footers" trained and worked faithfully and did themselves no disgrace. They finished third in the State meet which was quite remarkable considering that the other schools have specialized in track more extensively than Eastern. In a few years Eastern's track and field team will be among the best.



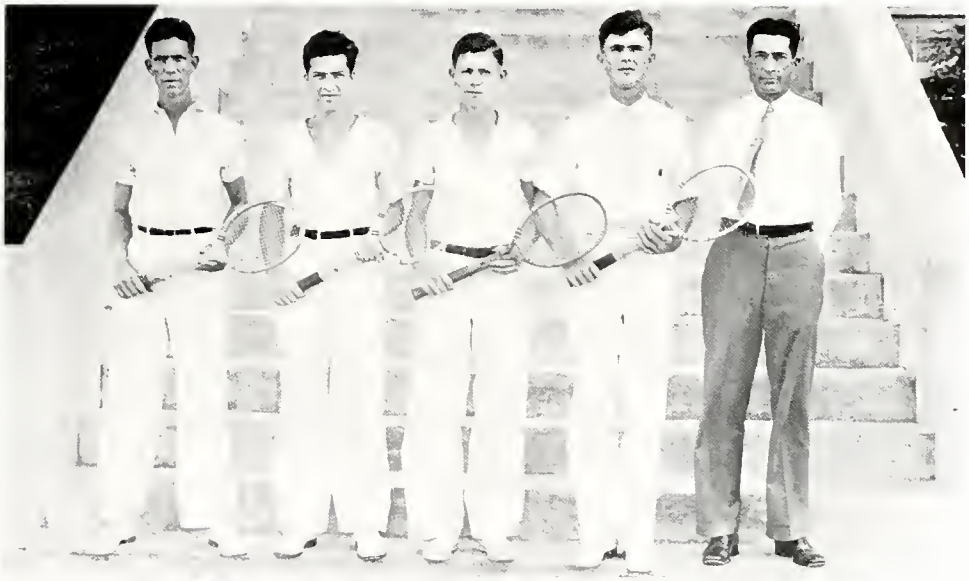
SWIMMING

Coach Ed Hesser's swimmers show promise of developing into a better team than the one which finished third in the state meet held here last year. After dropping close contests to the University of Kentucky and Morehead, the Maroon aquatic specialists won their first meet of the year from Berea. The Eastern fans hold high hopes for their favorites in the meets which are to come after the writing of this article.

ATHLETICS

TENNIS TEAM

Although Eastern had probably the smallest team in stature in the state, she probably had the most fighting team. The team average was about 5' 4" and this is no height in the tennis world. This team never gave up, but stayed with the best until the final stroke. Eastern had a much better team than the comparative scores indicate as the games of every match they lost were close and hard fought.



GOLF TEAM

Eastern can boast of having a champion, Garrard Rawling, Harlan, Eastern's No. 1 man, won the Kentucky Intercollegiate Golf Championship and proved himself to be one of the best amateurs in the state. This team, too, was better than the scores indicate and fought hard for every match even though they did lose several matches.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union was organized on Eastern's Campus in 1928, and has been in operation continuously since that time. The work has been under the direction of a student worker supported by the denomination since 1932, and for the past four years has been declared First Magnitude according to the standards of the Southern Baptist Department of Student Work. The executive council is composed of the heads of the various unit organizations of the Baptist Student Union with the pastor of the local church, a faculty adviser, and the student worker. The purpose of the union is to serve as a connecting link for the students between the college and the church. Membership is voluntary and may be obtained by enrolling in any activity of the local Baptist Church.

DORMITORY COUNCIL

The Dormitory Student Council is an organization that acts more or less as a unit of student government. It is composed of women living in Burnam Hall and Sullivan Hall and has as its purpose the promoting of good will among the women who live in the two dormitories.

The members of the council are appointed by the Dean of Women at the beginning of the school year. They are women who are interested in their work and accept no salary for what they do. Their chief interest is to assist the women residents in making their dormitories lovely places in which to live.

The Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. of Eastern, in striving to serve the needs of the student body, have set up the following purposes:

1. To lead young people to faith in God through Jesus Christ.
2. To promote growth in faith and character of young people, especially through prayer and study of the Bible.
3. To provide an opportunity for greater Christian fellowship.
4. To create a friendlier attitude among the younger people on our campus in particular and among young people in general.

In Memoriam

And when the stream,
Which overflowed the soul was passed away,
A consciousness remained that it had left,
Deposited upon the silent shore
Of memory, images, and precious thoughts
That shall not die and can not be destroyed.

Take us along . . .

We sincerely hope that the pleasant association we've known has been a mutual one . . . and that our organization may continue its value giving service, no matter where your paths may lead. The Penny by-word of value is a national one. And with nearly fifteen hundred stores in America, you're sure to find us somewhere in your neighborhood.

You who remain, we thank you for your patronage and suggest the J. C. Penny Saving Lesson as a part of your daily curriculum.

McGaughey's Studio

SINCE the beauty of an annual depends largely upon the quality of the photographs used, the Milestone Staff realize that a great part of whatever recognition this book merits should go to the McGaughey Studio. On the basis of satisfactory and efficient service, we recommend this studio to future Milestone Staffs.

Application photographs from any negative in our files may be had at any time for one dollar per dozen.

My task is done, my song has ceased, my theme
Has died into an echo: it is fit
The spell should break of this protracted dream.
The torch shall be extinguished which has lit
My midnight lamp—and what is writ, is writ;
Would it were worthier!
